Scientist of the Month

William Harvey

William Harvey discovered the heartbeat. We all know how the heart works, pumping blood around our body to all our organs. But this wasn't always common knowledge, thanks to this 16th century scientist, we have discovered the purpose of the heart. William Harvey was the first person to correctly describe blood's circulation in the body. He showed that arteries and veins form a complete circuit. The children will listen to each other's heartbeats with a real stethoscope and learn to feel a pulse on the wrist and neck.
